THE WOODEN OG

Before the interwebs, sending and receiving an actual piece of physical mail would make for a glorious day. That's how you felt when a box with a handwritten address and stamps came to your door. Sometimes they even had "Fragile" written sloppily on the sides. It was Glorious because the feeling of Christmas or a birthday could happen any time of the year.

That happened at Girl a lot back in those days. Surprise packages. One we still talk about was from Evan Hecox. It was the late '90s before Evan became was creating his signature art for Chocolate. He sent a box! Inside, a hand-made wooden girl "sculpture" that had articulating arms, legs and neck. A couple months later he sent a few with actual working knees. We hadn't even asked him to make them. They were a special, generous gift.

That first wooden Hecox girl became an icon for Girl and lead to literally hundreds more being made and shared with inspiring artists. We created board graphics, stickers, posters, used some for fundraisers, and exhibited in skate shops and galleries all over the States and eventually the world. Australia, Canada, France, Japan... they became coveted art pieces with 100s of artists asked to in and make one, or more.

Then the opportunity came in 2026 to exhibit them in Spain. We asked a very impressive list of new and long-time Girl contributors and special guests to make new ones. And most of them were sent to use via a box, in the mail. Glorious!

ES SOLO MADERA debuted in Madrid, Spain in October of 2026. This collection of 5 special Girl decks was culled from the amazing group of artists who joined us in Spain. Thank you to those alented artists for participating and sharing their work. - Andy Jenkins
